APPLICATION FOR THE 2017 ROBERT W. GREENE SUMMER INSTITUTE FOR HIGH SCHOOL JOURNALISTS

STONY BROOK UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM • JULY 23 TO JULY 29

This intensive, seven-day residential summer workshop is designed for current high school sophomores and juniors considering careers in journalism. The workshop introduces students to basic skills in news reporting, writing and editing and the use of video and still photography. Classes are taught by professional journalists. Students will live at the University and work in the School of Journalism’s multimedia newsroom. As a culminating activity, students will produce original work across several media platforms. There is a nonrefundable $200 administration fee to be paid upon acceptance into the program. This fee can be waived in cases of financial hardship.
